

Further author responses

hgss-2022-6: Atmospheric electricity at Lerwick Geophysical Observatory (Harrison and Riddick)

Thank you for the further consideration of our revised manuscript. In response to the points made:

- Figure 7. This shows images from archive material of the National Meteorological Archive. An acknowledgement following the form they have asked for, following an enquiry, has now been included in the caption.
- Figure 1. Google Earth material added to caption as requested.
- Author names. These are now given in full. Note, please, for the first author, that his first name is not used, hence just the first initial is conventionally written.
